EXHIBITION

Meet the movers and shakers of the process and bio-based industry sectors

Visitors to BiobasedWorld will all be seeking products, technologies and collaborative partners. They will be looking for tailored solutions to the unique challenges they are facing. Attendees will be producers of biomass-derived chemicals, biofuels and power, as well as companies working on renewable energy projects. Technology providers, equipment manufacturers, project developers, investors – meet them all at BiobasedWorld.

ACHEMA offers an unrivalled platform to start-up companies, small and medium-sized companies, as well as to multinational organisations. Flexible stand options, to suit all budgets, allow you to be part of the ACHEMA BiobasedWorld community and to present your products and services.

BiobasedWorld at ACHEMA enables you to be more cost-effective by:

- » Saving time and money by meeting your target group all in one place, face to face
- » Enhancing the visibility and reputation of your company globally
- » Launching, demonstrating and promoting new products and services
- » Exploring and entering new export markets fast and effectively
- » Finding new experts and employees for your company
- » Improving media relations and generating media exposure
