

Technology Transfer Days at BiobasedWorld

THE MARKETPLACE FOR SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY IN THE BIO-ECONOMY

The Technology Transfer Days are a technology and knowledge-sharing event for universities, research institutes and industry.

Solve mutual problems and share best practices! Experts from academia and industry will present close-to-market R&D solutions in a series of 10-minute talks.

Topics of the Technology Transfer Days

- » Biorefinery processes for biomass conversion
- » New crops for bio-based applications
- » Novel microbial, enzymatic and catalytic production systems
- » Scale-up of processes and downstream processing
- » Bio-based products for new commercial applications in the energy, chemicals, cosmetic, food and textile industries

Meet key players from the whole bio-based value chain. Discuss new technologies, processes, latest developments and ideas at one time in one place. BiobasedWorld at ACHEMA is the launchpad for innovations and new cooperations in the bio-economy.

Catch a glimpse of the future and discover which technologies will be market-ready in the short to medium term.
